

Nameoki Town Board Proposes Storage Shed

The Nameoki town board at Saturday's meeting voted to re-view a plan to build a shed on township property and lease it to the state highway department for storage of equipment.

Supervisor Harry Briggs said the state had offered to rent a shed for $100 a month for four years. He said a suitable 42x60-foot building with a 12-foot clearance could be built for $2476.

Briggs said the board could finance the shed at $90 a month for four years, without cost to the township. Electricity — the only apparent township service would be provided by the surplus fund, he said. The proposed building would presumably require little maintenance.

Atty. Nick Vassiloff was asked to study the plan to determine its legality or possibly suggest alternate plans for providing a building.

Selection of township residents to serve on a "citizens' committee" to create interest in township activities was discussed until next Saturday, when an informal meeting at 10 a.m. will consider prospective members.

In other action, the board approved paying its tax assessor $142 yearly fee of $800 for travel and transportation expenses for the next four years. In the past the sum had not been paid all at once.

Bills approved for payment included $331 to Tri-City Lumber Co.; $301 to Macalea Asphalt Co.; $159 to St. Louis Slag Products Co.; $158 to V. W. Eckman; and $108 to The Climax Co.

The next regular meeting was set for 10 a.m. Aug. 12.

Leslie Roberson Suffers Asthma Attack

Leslie Roberson, 55, of 3252 Rodgers avenue, is in St. Elizabeth Hospital after suffering a severe asthma attack last night.

Roberson, an employee of Granite City Steel Co., was stricken about 9 p.m. A Granite City fire department inhalator was dispatched, but not used. He was taken by ambulance to the hospital.

He has suffered from asthma for three years.

DAMAGED BY FIRE when it became involved in a burning field of straw near Shamrock Gardens Friday, this long Lake volunteer fire department pump might require a new point job, according to Chief Orville South. The truck had been driven into the field for better access to the 3 p.m. fire. No one was injured.

Long Lake Fire Truck Damaged by Flames

A pump owned by the Long Lake volunteer fire department was damaged slightly Friday afternoon when flames from a burning field of straw closed in and the truck could not be moved.

Fire Chief Orville South said the truck had been driven into the field for better access to the fire and that it "must have been mired down." He said a new paint job would probably be needed, but no other damage was apparent.

About a fourth of the estimated 40-acre field at Edgewood avenue and Johnson road behind Shamrock Gardens subdivision was burned about 3 p.m. by the fire, South said.

Equipment also was sent from two Granite City stations. Cause of the fire was undetermined, but a fireman said a cigarette might have been to blame.

Back-fires, or fires built behind the main blaze and against the wind, were used in combating it.

Eagle Park Acres Man Dies In Gun Duel In Street

Iley Moore, 59, of 112 Terry street, was fatally wounded by a blast from a 12 gauge shotgun in Eagle Park Acres Thursday night, and Madison county authorities are holding Jesse C. Whorton, 110 Allen street, on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the shooting. His bond was set at $3000, pending an inquest.

Assistant State's Atty. John Gilchiff said Whorton, 69, turned himself in voluntarily.

Madison police station after the shooting, which took place about 11 p.m.

In a statement to Gilchiff early Friday morning, Whorton told the following account of the shooting:

Whorton, his wife and granddaughter, and a neighbor's child were watching television about 10 p.m. when Moore came to the door seeking help. Moore's car was stuck in the mud only 50 to 75 feet away, and Whorton helped him get it out.

The two then went to a liquor store and bought a half-pint of whisky, returning to the front of the Whorton home. Whorton said he took only one drink.

"Nobody Can Hurt Me"

Moore had a pistol which he began playing with, saying "Nobody can hurt me as long as I have this," Whorton said Moore "just seemed to have an urge" to shoot the gun, and said he could "cut you right in half" with it if he wanted to.

Whorton told him, "If you shoot me, it will have to be in the back. I'm going in." He turned and started inside, and Moore fired two shots. Whorton said he heard one shot whiz by near the ground, but thought the other might have been fired into the air.

Whorton went into the house, got a shotgun, and returned outside. He stopped by the gate, leaning the gun against the fence. Moore was sitting in his car but started backing toward Whorton. He cut the wheel hard, backing across the street, at the same time fired three more shots. Whorton said he fired his shotgun toward the car, then ran and knocked the gun from Moore's hand.

Moore slid from the car on the left side and Whorton ran around the auto and struck him on the head or shoulder with the

GC Tax Payments Near $1,500,000

Tax payments in Granite City township now total nearly $1 1/2 million, it was reported this morning by City Treasurer and Township Tax Collector Frank Sappington.

The collection on Thursday, Friday and Saturday amounted to $121,780, boosting the total payments since June 12 to $1,481,011.

The collector's office on the second floor of the city hall is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and 8 a.m. until noon on Saturdays.

Glitchoff said examination of Moore's auto indicated Whorton's first blast went through the vent of the right door, missing the driver and striking the left side of the car. He said three bullet holes were found in the inside paneling of the right front door, apparently coming from Moore's pistol.

An autopsy, performed by Deputy Coroner Francis J. Loney, showed Moore was shot in the neck and at the base of the skull, dying instantly. Gilchiff said the report showed no powder burns outside the wound, but some on the inside, indicating the gun was in contact with the skin when the shot was fired.

Authorities recovered a .12 gauge, double-barrel shotgun from Whorton's home, with two empty shells in the chamber. Whorton identified the gun as his. A .22 cal. nine-shot pistol was found on the floorboards of Moore's car, containing four live bullets and five empty shells. An empty half-pint whisky bottle was found on the rear floorboards.

Gilchiff said he took Whorton's statement shortly after midnight, and that the man was not intoxicated. He said Whorton talked freely and intelligently, and was quite shaken by what had happened.

New Fund, Pay Hikes Boost Tentative School Budget

The establishment of a new working cash fund and pay increases for all full-time custodial and office personnel were the major reasons the Venice school district's tentative budget for 1961-62 showed a $66,839 increase over last year's figure when the tentative proposal was adopted by the board last week, a study by the Press-Record shows.

The tentative budget is in the amount of $723,118, as compared to the amount of $656,279, it will go on display at the board offices July 17, and a public hearing and budget adoption meeting are scheduled there at 7 p. m. Sept. 5.

The separate working cash fund was made necessary under provisions of a new school district accounting system, being applied under Illinois law for the first time this year.

Loans From One Fund
Its purpose is to provide monies for inter-fund loans, eliminating the former practice of loans to cover a deficit in one fund from an other fund with a cash balance.

In the future, all loans will be made from and repaid to this one fund, eliminating the administrators hope, a good deal of bookkeeping.

Full-time custodians in the Venice system last week were voted pay increases ranging from $18 to $33 per month for 1961-62, and full-time office personnel were placed on a 10-year salary schedule which also calls for pay increases.

The district's building fund budget showed a sizeable drop—$78,243—but only because the bond issue fund has been eliminated as a sub-item under the building fund budget. The bond issue fund, with $80,000 entered under a bond issue working cash fund title and $65,575 entered in the building bond issue fund, both new and separate classifications.

Four new funds are created by the accounting system. In addition to the working cash fund, bond issue working cash fund and building bond issue fund, the municipal retirement fund has been established.

General classifications within the transportation, building and educational funds are also changed somewhat, making comparison with last year's budget item figures difficult. However, all classifications under the old accounting system are included in the new budget setup, although some have jumped from one fund to another.

Income At $662,000
The Venice board also listed estimated income of $662,000 for 1961-62 when it approved the tentative budget. Last year, combined with expected cash balances of $123,339 in seven funds as of July 1, estimated total receipts are $78,136, or $63,018 more than the tentative budget.

An itemized listing of estimated income in each of the seven funds follows:
Educational fund—cash balance $88,098; taxes $375,000; state aid $34,000; driver training $150,000; physically handicapped $150; speech $24,000; home economics $7,000; school fund $40,000; National Defense Act, Title V.

Transportation
Total tentative transportation fund budget $110,041, down $3,861.

New Fund Budgets
The following funds are established under provisions of a new accounting system and in some instances include monies formerly listed in other funds:
Working cash fund—loans to other funds $84,883, up $64,883; Building bond issue fund—interest $18,562, down $5,013; bond retirement $45,000, up $30,000; Total, $63,562, down $2,013.

Bond issue working cash fund interest $30,000, up $87; bond retirement $50,000; same. Total, $80,000, up $87.

Municipal retirement fund—employee retirement and welfare $74,000, up $4,852; Grand total, tentative budget for 1961-62 $723,118, up $66,839.

Commission's Powers

The commission's powers are to propose and recommend to the city council a comprehensive plan of public improvements, looking to the present and future development of the city which, after its adoption by the city council, shall be known as the official plan.

To recommend from time to time changes in any official plan adopted by the city council.

To prepare and recommend to the city council plans for specific improvements in pursuance of the official plan.

To exercise such other powers as may be provided by statute or ordinance.

Among these miscellaneous powers, the Plan Commission is designated by the zoning ordinance as the body which hears applications for amendments of the zoning ordinance.

It also must approve all plans within the city or within 1 1/2 miles of the city limits and within the corporate limits of any other municipality.

The SIU experts point out serious difficulties could result if a zoning decision were challenged in court because of the eight-member commission, since the Municipal Code sets the size of five members. It also is pointed out the ordinance does not now provide for staggered terms of the commissioners.

Agency Representatives

In the revision of the Plan Commission ordinance, it is recommended that consideration be given to placing a Tri-City Regional Port Authority representative, a representative of the school district, a representative of the park district as well as citizens on the commission.

Drainage Improvement No. 1 Issue Facing Granite City

Unpredictable weather—rainfall is five inches above normal for the first half of 1961—emphasizes the value of adequate drainage to Granite City, which has been flooded and impassable at many points on several occasions this year. With two other facts also considered (sanitary sewer extensions for new subdivisions have been halted and sewer trouble is partly responsible for the Wobler Corporation's decision to move) drainage ranks as the city's No. 1 issue.

Granite City will grow, with adequate drainage, or it will face an uncertain, unattractive future. The challenge to every local resident is clear-cut, for everyone will be adversely affected unless a master sewer and drainage program is carried out, regardless of present drainage conditions in their immediate neighborhoods.

Because of the size and cost of the sewer project, teamwork by the public, city, levee district, state and federal governments will be essential. With all parties aware of this challenge, basic studies completed and necessary state legislation already enacted, momentum for the program has been increasing. It must not stop until the construction is approved and completed.

Test Of Automatic Highway Could Revolutionize Travel

Automation will receive the acid test in the next several years as the federal government places a $50,000,000 bet on the idea that automatic highways are feasible. Higher speed, greater safety and fuller utilization of expensive roadways are touted as the major gains if the tests succeed.

The driver will have no control over his car once on the 100-mile-long lane, location of which has not been decided. A guidance device is to be imbedded in or at the side of the road, controlling the car's speed, acceleration and braking. After the motorist selects his destination, by using an emergency button linked by cable to the control unit, he can signify he has changed his mind and desires to leave the highway sooner.

Planners say signals from a control center will keep each vehicle on course, and that drivers can read, sleep or turn around to talk with others in their cars without sacrificing safety or travel speed. Stalled cars will be removed by recovery vehicles, other traffic meanwhile being temporarily slowed or halted automatically.

With the objective of personalized transit between cities at safe speeds of up to 100 miles an hour, the plan has interesting possibilities. One disadvantage, however—or is it an advantage?—is that back-seat drivers would have scant influence on a box of electronic equipment beneath the front bumper.

Madison Officials Aided Move Toward Uniform Drinking Age

Madison city officials, who were outspoken in behalf of a uniform state minimum age law on liquor sales, share credit for its adoption. With both boys and girls now required to be 21 years old to buy drinks, enforcement should be easier both locally and throughout the state.

When an issue is before the state legislature, who can say which individual's views or which organization's backing tipped the scales toward approval? There is no doubt that Illinois representatives and senators are interested in the public's opinion. It is significant that Mayor Maera and his associates made their views known on this subject prior to the biennial state session.

Proposed New Bomb Reviving Morality Vs. Security Argument

A... H... N. The alphabet of bombs continues to grow. Will it reach X—bombarbards zeroing in on the target of civilization itself? Discussions that are in progress may help give the answer.

The atomic bomb was detonated after behind-the-scenes debate in 1945, and hydrogen weapons were perfected in the late 1940s after controversy between review panels and advisory committees. Now, scientific groups are divided over whether to pursue final development of a neutron bomb.

Unlike nuclear or thermonuclear devices presently in the U. S. arsenal, a neutron bomb would not cause death or destruction by the heat and blast effects of its explosion. It would kill all personnel in a limited area with a burst of radiation from neutrons—subatomic particles within the nucleus of the atom—and leave buildings intact. There would be no lingering radioactive fallout.

As was the case with A and H bombs, the moral argument against its development is tempered by the fear that enemy countries will develop it and thus achieve a strong advantage in their weaponry. All seem agreed that it could be as revolutionary an advance over hydrogen bombs as they were over the original atomic device.

Describing it as a "death ray" and "a far more effective battlefield weapon than any now in existence," Sen. Dodd (D, Connecticut) says, "It would do next to nothing to the enemy, it would result in no contamination but it would immediately destroy all life in the target area." Its high-energy neutrons would penetrate clothing, walls of buildings and the steel shells of tanks within a diameter of a mile or less.

Ignited by extreme heat rather than the "fission trigger" that touches off hydrogen bombs, the new weapon would be humane only in the sense that it might quickly end a limited war, and could be controlled to the extent that a full-scale nuclear war might not be the inevitable result. And there would be no radioactivity, swept hundreds of miles by the wind to spread illness and death.

The blessings of wprk cannot be overestimated but there are times when we suspect that there are blessings connected with losing.

United Action Can Strengthen Area's Voice On Key Issues

"Union gives strength," Aesop said 2500 years ago, and it is the central thought behind scheduled creation of an organization linking bi-county Chambers of Commerce. Through discussions and decisions by such a group, the Illinois Metropolitan Area can move closer to achieving joint action and a united voice on development projects, legislation, transportation, planning and other fields.

One side of a two-state region cannot speak for the other side, and this has been recognized increasingly by all parties. In many ways, both official and unofficial, sharing of viewpoints between Madison-St. Clair counties communities has been started to meet the need for an authoritative Illinois voice, and common efforts have been exerted to achieve mutual objectives.

The Chamber coordinating body and other examples of bi-county cooperation are a good sign, for this area has a right and a need to stand on its own feet. Fast reaching the point where it will have a full third of the region's population, the Illinois Metropolitan Area must make itself heard if it is to become a full partner.

Highway fatalities are increasing but it's won't persuade anybody that the next accident may be him or her.

"A Debt That Cannot Be Paid in Full"—Romans 1:14-16; 13:8
If a Christian loves today, tomorrow and the next day, he is still obligated to love the following day, and every day that he lives.

The Scriptures exhort us, "Owe no man anything, but to love one another." Christianity is a love affair. God so loved, that He gave His Son—Christ as well as the up-and-outer, "I am ready to preach the gospel!"—He was ready to put forth a special effort.

As a sprinter exerts every muscle which causes hard breathing in his effort to reach the goal, so Paul was willing to exert every effort to get the gospel to the people of Rome. Paul knew the Romans of his day were trying to invent new ways of sinning against God. He knew also that the gospel was the power of God unto salvation to everyone who believed. Therefore, he was not ashamed to preach the gospel in Rome. He knew that the gospel could save sinners and accomplish God's purpose in their lives.

Are we as Christians fulfilling our part in this love affair by loving and witnessing each day of our lives?

Paul said, "I am a debtor both to Greeks and barbarians, to the wise and the foolish. He was speaking of the down-and-outer as well as the up-and-outer, "I am ready to preach the gospel!"—He was ready to put forth a special effort.

As a sprinter exerts every muscle which causes hard breathing in his effort to reach the goal, so Paul was willing to exert every effort to get the gospel to the people of Rome. Dr. Mann To Confer With Council Committee Chairmen

The first formal meeting of the chairman of the Granite City council's reorganized committee will be held this evening to review Southern Illinois University's government study report with Dr. Seymour Z. Mann, director of SIU's Southwestern Campus metropolitan affairs program.

Mayor Davis said the committee chairman will meet in a dinner session at Cline's restaurant, and after conferring with Dr. Mann will meet with City Comptroller John Dooner to go over the city's new budget.

The Finance committee has held several sessions on the budget, but as yet no concrete negotiations are not completed with unions representing city employees. Mayor Davis said he hoped to have preliminary figures ready for this evening's meeting and complete negotiations in time for a council case session on the budget later this week.

The mayor's schedule calls for the new budget to be aired publicly at the July 17 regular meeting.

Venice Seeks Bids For Two Street Dept. Dump Trucks

Bids for two street department dump trucks authorized at Friday's meeting of the Venice council, will be opened at the 21 meeting. An amount of $7000 was included in the city's new budget for the purchase of one of the two trucks to be replaced in 14 years old.

Mayor John E. Lee said funds would be available since the city's receipts included payment of $50,000 settlement in a tax objection case. Total receipts during the month amounted to $53,291, while disbursements were $20,781, leaving a balance of $32,510.

The Madison County Mental Health Clinic, with offices in Granite City and Alton, has been awarded a $47,500 grant from state and federal mental health funds. It was announced Friday by Gov. Otto Kerner at Springfield.

The money is part of the operating fund of the clinic and is used to hire a staff. It is a supplement to funds raised locally. The staff includes two full-time psychiatric social workers, two part-time clinical psychologists and two part-time clinical psychiatrists.

The county clinic is presently seeking two other full-time staff members, a clinical psychiatrist and a clinical psychologist. Secretaries are on duty each week at both clinics.

The grant, an increase of $7500 over last year, is for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The funds provided by the state and federal grants are a result of state and national legislation which encourages the use of funds for research and preventive measures.

Recommendations for condemnation were referred to the attorney. The property was listed as being at 1033 Calhoun street, the year of 305 Weaver street and between 307 and 309 Weaver street.

The June police report listed arrests with fines totaling $425. Bills and salaries were approved for the last half of June.

GC Finds Right Combination: Homers and Stingy Pitching For Sweep At Hannibal, Mo.

Jim Bain, Jake Hintersher and the seventh on singles by Ron Jack Scarborough supplied the power and Ray Huff and Leo Six pitched the prowess as Granite City's Class A softball club scored a double victory over the Higgle Stars in Hannibal, Mo. last night.

Bain pumped two balls over the centerfield fence in third and fourth appearances at the plate during a 14-2 GC run-way in the second game. Scarborough also hit for the circuit in the first game, while Hintersher drove in three runs with a round-trip poke in the fourth inning of the first game, won by the locals 6-1.

Six flipped a four-batter at the St. Louis Cardinals, and blanked them until the seventh when he gave up two singles and a double. Scarborough was charged with a passed ball. Six fanned four and walked just one. GC led down the first game.

time for overtime and 50 cent to 60-cent hourly wage rate increase was costs by $55,040 or 35.6%. Also requested is an increase of ten days sick leave and handling of grievances by the board of education through the labor council, instead of the present handling by the school administration.

The present cafeteria workers' contract is for two years and provides for a union shop, administration recommendation of employees in a state requirement and time-and-a-half for overtime.

Custodian Requests
Custodians are requesting a 50-year contract and $500 increase in yearly pay for each of 73 workers. Other requests include four additional workers, increase of paid holidays from 11 to 15, salary increases for elementary and high school lead men, boiler cleaners, maintenance men and substitutes, and an increase of sick leave from 60 to 70 days.

Dr. Kaiser estimated that if cafeteria workers' requests are granted, the cost of school lunches in elementary schools be raised to 45 cents per lunch and 50 cents per lunch in the junior and senior high schools. The present rates, the same as those recommended by the state, are 30 cents and 35 cents.

The new cafeteria workers' proposal would raise total costs $111,891. The custodians' request would increase total expenditure by an additional $97,561.

In discussing the new contracts Thursday, the school board compared present pay schedules in Granite City with those in other area school districts, including St. Louis, Alton, Belleville, Collinsville, East St. Louis and Venice.

Arrested by Granite City police last night for driving without a license was Rutherford W. Tidwell, 23, of 1953 Spruce street. He was released to $16 cash bail.

City Court Jury Hears Combined Cases Today

A city court jury began hearing testimony in two cases at 1 p.m. today, separate lawsuits which have been combined for trial since they are both the outgrowth of the same auto accident, the clerk of the city court said. Judge Fred P. Schuman is presiding.

The defendant in both cases is Harry Smith, and the plaintiffs are Joseph Holder and James Dugas.

The city clerk said six other cases scheduled for the one-week jury setting have either been stricken, or settled out of court, leaving only the cases currently being heard on the docket.

June Locks Traffic Down, But Six-Month Totals Up

June traffic through Chain of Rocks Canal Locks 27 barely remained above the two-million-ton mark as it dropped 332,000 tons below last month's total. Despite the decrease in tonnage, the totals for the first half of 1961 are 500,000 tons above the figure for the same period of 1960.

According to the report from the District Corps of Engineers office in St. Louis, commercial traffic through the locks last month totaled 2,009,065 tons. Coupled with 150 tons of government traffic, the monthly total reached 2,010,215.

Oddly enough, the number of lockages reached a record high for the first half of this year. The 3,407 total number of vessels, 203 below last month's figure, were hauled in the record 888 lockages. Traffic in tone upstream again ahead of the downstream figure.

A breakdown of tonnage for the month of June follows: Petroleum products—up 412,725; down 181,435; grain—15,200; down 448,520; coal—up 424,700; down 2,800; cement, sand

GC Optimist Club Honors Vice-President Sternberg

New Tavern Closing Hours Trouble Sheriff

Hours Trouble Sheriff

Sheriff George Musso is finding it hard to enforce the new county ordinance providing for tavern closing hour limits of 1 a.m. during the week and 2 a.m. on Sundays which became effective June 22.

Musso explains that surveillance is being maintained by night deputy patrols of his office but the policing of restaurants or cafes operated in connection with taverns poses an enforcement complication. Night deputy patrols have made arrests resulting in conviction and fining of two tavern operators in unincorporated areas of the county for violation of the closing hour regulation.

The problem of enforcing the closing hours is complicated in the case of a legitimate eating place that serves dinners or meals past the closing hours and has tavern privileges. Musso said, after conferring with County Liquor Commissioner Gus Haller and Assistant State's Atty. Burton Bernard, Sheriff Musso was advised to use his own discretion in the enforcement of closing hours for taverns where a food service is provided after drinking hours. He emphasized that he was not referring to places that serve a few sandwiches.

Bernard advised him that places which are established restaurants may continue to serve food after closing hours for patrons that a sign to inform them should be displayed or the bar should be closed off and the "back-bar" covered.

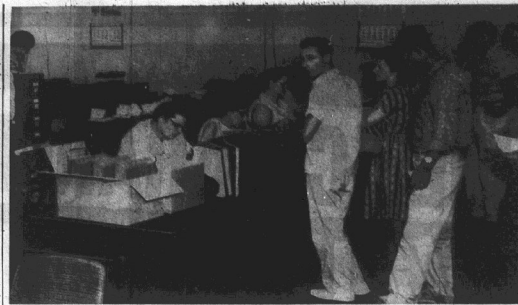

Special Enlistments For Europe, Hawaii

The U. S. Army is offering for the month of July only, a special enlistment option in which those young men interested in assignments in either Europe or Hawaii can get acquainted in St. Louis before making the trip, according to Army Recruiter Sgt. Donald Laird, whose station is located in the city hall.

Sgt. Laird said the St. Louis main recruiting station has an allocation of 25 special enlistments for Hawaii and 25 more for Europe.

A St. Louis Hawaiian platoon will be formed, he said, and added that the group will be trained as a unit at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., prior to departure for service in Hawaii. The enlistees are guaranteed assignments as part of the Army's overall "choice, not chance" enlistment system, Sgt. Laird concluded.

Homogrown green, luscious, tender green onions and crisp, colorful radishes are the makings for a salad that's a veritable work of art.

Salads Ever New

Many kinds of salad and new meanings have evolved since that ancient tog'd citizen of Rome added salt to some lettuce and the dish we know as salad—the Latin word, "sal," for salt—came into being. For example, raw spinach in salads is new to many.

The spring crop of leafy, tender spinach now in abundance in our markets is growing into one of the most popular salad greens. Spinach is a delight to the salad bowl alone with radishes and green onions, or as the shiny dark green color for leaf and heart lettuce salads.

The new spinach is known by its tender, bright green leaf and small stems. It will be found retailed in bulk form as well as packaged. Normally the bulk form is more reasonable. A pound of fresh spinach is comparable in servings to a ten ounce package of returned spinach.

Farm Column

By TRUMAN W. MAY
Madison County Farm Adviser

Now that the strawberry season is over, several growers have been asked about how to manage the patch during the rest of the summer. Here are some suggestions from Bill Courtney, University of Illinois fruit specialist:

Move off the tops of all berry plants. Use a rotary sickle or lawn mower. Set the blade high enough to avoid damaging the crown and leave the leaves. Rake up all leaves, old straw and other debris. Burn them.

To prevent overcrowding, narrow the rows to 8 to 12 inches. Use a plow, rototiller, garden disk or handhoe. Try to destroy all plant growth beyond the 8 to 12-inch width.

Remove all weeds left in the narrow row.

Fertilize. Use 10-10-10 or 12-12-12. Apply 5 pounds for every 100 ft. of row.

Water. Let a hose run slowly over the ground and soak the soil six inches deep. Water whenever the patch becomes dry later in the summer.

To control weeds, apply the chemical, some times known as a crab herbicide No. 1. Use one tablespoon in one gallon of water for every 200 square feet. Remove established weeds before applying.

Allow runner plants to root as they form. Rows should increase until they are 18 to 25 inches wide. After they reach this width, remove all runner plants that form. Why? Plants that root after August 1 will not produce fruit next year.

Check the patch often for signs of insects or disease. The U. of I. offers three free publications that give more specific information on strawberry growing, disease and insect control. They are:

Circular 819, Strawberry Growing in Illinois.
Circular 814, Illinois Fruit Calendar for 1961 of Apples, Strawberries and Peaches.
Fruit Leaflet No. 1, Strawberry Spray and Dust Guide.

You can pick up copies from the farm adviser's office.

Chairmen of the Madison county agriculture and home economics councils along with the farm and home advisers meeting at a state-wide meeting at the University of Illinois.

The conference was arranged to give extension councils a more complete understanding of how the Extension Service operates and its relation to the University of Illinois.

Dean Louis B. Howard, Director of the Extension Service at Illinois, Associate Director J. B. Clark, and other members of the state staff participated in the program. University President David D. Henry addressed the conference on Tuesday.

Those attending from Madison county were Wm. H. Rohrkast, Mrs. Harold Kriep, Mrs. Elaine Wendler and the farm adviser.

The councils serve as the advisory committee for the extension programs in the counties and assist the local farm and home advisers and their assistants in carrying them out. The dean of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture appoints each member for a two-year term.

DSMA stands for di-sodium methyl arsonate, and AMA stands for amine methyl arsonate. They are chemical compounds that can successfully control crabgrass during the summer.

Several companies sell these compounds under a variety of trade names, so check the label of ingredients when buying. Follow directions on the label.

As a general rule, at least three applications, a week apart, are needed for effective control.

Madison county delegates to the recent three-day Illinois State 4-H Club program at the University of Illinois were Judy Long, Diane Schuette, Karen Schein, Lacy Daiber, Joe Wisknasky, Barbara Gremer, Jane Loemker, Mrs. Jean Wehling and Louis A. Bower, assistant farm adviser.

Prompt and correct treatment of injuries suffered in farm accidents can save your life or prevent serious infection.

Now that the busy season around the farm is here, be sure you have enough first-aid kits in your home, at convenient places in other buildings and on equipment.

You don't need to buy an expensive kit. You can make your own. All you need is a tight metal box or a tightly covered tin can. Clean it out thoroughly, and label it as a first-aid kit.

Each kit should contain supplies of adhesive tape of various widths, sterile white cloth for bandages or tourniquets, a tube of white vasoline for minor burns, scalds, boric acid, tincture of iodine, an acetaminophen and aromatic spirits of ammonia.

Rainfall in most communities for the month of June was about 3 inches below normal until the rain of June 28. Total for the year is now slightly above normal. The dry weather had slowed the growth of corn, soybeans and other crops, also pastures.

Crops are now at a stage where they use a lot of water, but dry weather is needed for wheat harvesting.

Several fires caused by spontaneous combustion of hay have been reported. Baled hay can be stored safely at 25% moisture and long hay at 20%. Chopped hay must be dried at all, 15% moisture.

Planting corn to kill weeds and grass with special weeding equipment is being demonstrated on several farms in the county. These include J. H. Mann, Wood River; Raymond Vernon Keller, Edwardsville; Arthur W. Gusewelle, Hannibal; and O. John Plocher, Sallina.

Farmer's interest in this new type of weed and grass control are invited to look at these fields and see the results.

Dusts are better than sprays for controlling diseases and insects on flowers. Dusts are easier to apply, they stick better when the foliage is wet, and you don't need special equipment to apply them.

A new chemical treatment to prevent water losses in ponds by evaporation is being tried on 14 farm ponds in the county this summer. The material has been applied on ponds on the farms of J. W. Autrey, Cecil; H. L. Hill, Berlin; George Brase, 1130 W. J. Eaton, Ralph Handshy, Norman; Kriep, C. C. Leach, O. E. Ludwig, Ray Moehle, George A. Rinkel, Wm. H. Rohrkast, Henry Stahlhut and Earl Wilson.

Faith is a fine thing — but keep more of it in your heart and less behind the steering wheel.

GC Council To Plan

with the exception of the adoption of the zoning code. Partney said the city planning firm could be hired for a nominal fee to bring it up to date. The original plan was developed at a cost of $20,000, with the expense shared by the city, $11,000; the school district, $4500; the park district, $3500, and the housing authority, $1000.

A need for review of the comprehensive plan, as pointed out by Partney, is shown in the population projection set by the city planners. Their estimate made in 1955 was for Granite City's population to reach 38,770 by 1980, while the city expanded greatly in recent years, and the 1960 U.S. census topped the prediction and set the 1960 population at 40,073.

Partney said he has been conferring with Mayor Davis on appointments for the Plan Commission, to take place after the city's Municipal Code is amended to enlarge the present five-member commission to 12 to 15 members as recommended by SIU. While the present city franchise specifies five members for the commission, eight have been named and are now serving. Mayor Davis explained the additional members were appointed to assure a quorum at meetings.

Closer Inspections
Chairman Partney and his committee, Charles Meyer, Samuel Shuckoff, Edmund Bartosik and Ford Johnson, hope to relieve Billy Blinn, inspector Earl Bloomquist of his clerical duties, which confine him to the city hall much of the day, through establishment of an office for the Plan Commission in the two-room suite now occupied by the building inspector.

"This way," Partney said, "the officers and staff will have more time to carry out his duties in the field and not be stuck in the office as he is now. The clerk will handle building permit applications, which will be reviewed by the inspector."

"Also with a clerk, the city's zoning map will be kept up to date."

"We're planning to be an active Plan committee and will work with the mayor, city council and Plan Commission to further the growth and development of Granite City," Partney concluded.

St. Louis Man Arrested

Orville Harris, 51, of St. Louis, was arrested about 11:35 p.m. Sunday by Madison police, at the corner of 12th street and Madison avenue for possession of obscene literature. He was released after posting bond to appear for a hearing July 21.

Speeding Charge

John T. Webster, 26, of 2114 Madison avenue, posted his driver's license as bond after being arrested yesterday afternoon at 22nd street and Madison avenue on a charge of speeding.

Minor Damage In Crash

Only minor damage resulted in an auto collision at the corner of Second street and McCambridge avenue at 6:25 this morning. The cars involved were owned by Morgan T. Green, East St. Louis, and Virginia W. Wolf, 1001 Market street, Madison police said no one was hurt.

Unfair Labor Practice
Charges Are Dismissed

Charges of unfair labor practices filed against Granite City Steel Co. and Local 50, International Chemical Workers Union, by Local 148, Operating Engineers, have been dismissed, according to Region 14 Director of the National Labor Relations Board Salvatore Cosentino in St. Louis.

Members of Local 148 were employed at the Union Electric Co. generating station, which was purchased for $376,000 on May 1 by Granite City Steel Co. and combined with the firm's nearby blast furnace department.

Local 148 had charged that Local 50 did not have the right to assume bargaining powers for employees of the generating station which were retained when the power plant was absorbed by Granite City Steel Co.

John Stevens of the St. Louis NLRB Region 14 office said the dismissal of the charges is subject to review, if such action is sought by representatives of Local 148.

The NLRB ruling stated that the complaint of unfair labor practices had no basis, and that Local 50 assumed the right to bargain powers when it took over operation of the power plant.

QUAD-CITIES

TWO VISITORS to the Chain of Rocks canal locks leaning on the railing of the visitors' area along the east wall, waiting for a tow to appear. The locks are visited by several hundred persons daily and are especially favored as a "cooling off spot" during hot summer nights.

Quad-Cityans Combat Hot Nights At Locks

The gates open and close, the boats come and go, at the Chain of Rocks Canal Locks No. 27, located at the end of West 20th street.

So do the kids and, for that matter, so do the grownups. Especially on hot summer nights when one of the coolest spots in town is the wall above the main lock.

"Any hot night when the temperature gets around 90, a lot of people will come out here just to get cooled off," Roy Elliott, lockmaster, explained.

Several hundred visitors see the locks each day during the summer, and even in winter an average day 300 persons will come, Elliott said.

Even bigger attendances are encouraged by St. Louis District Engineer Col. Alfred J. D'Arco, who said he was "most happy to see Quad-Cityans and others visiting the locks and that they are most welcome."

A registration book inside the office which visitors may sign if they wish shows that in the past year, virtually every state and several foreign nations have been represented at the locks.

Practically Every Country "Since the locks opened to navigation in 1953, we've had them from practically every country in the world," Elliott says. During recent months, nations represented included South Africa, Korea, Viet Nam, Iran, Pakistan, Thailand, Turkey, the Philippines and Russia.

Visitors' comments ranged from "interesting" to "fantabulous" to "not as good as Texas" to "it would make a good swimming pool" to "a place the city should be proud of" to "cull me up sometime."

Many million tons of commerce move through the locks each year—one of the two biggest locks on the Mississippi River system—including petroleum products, grain, coal, cement, sand and gravel, sulphur, chemicals and steel.

But the age of the visitor's eyes largely determine what they see and remember.

Heard Big Place A tiny girl who had just arrived turned and ran back up the ramp to her slower parents, shouting, "It's big, it's real—real big!"

Then she dashed back pell-mell.

Constructed at a cost of $40,000,000 under supervision of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, the locks offer many ingredients of potential adventure—especially to youngsters.

There are strange sounds, river sounds, ranging from signal horns to a faint creaking as the huge miter gates at the downstream end of the locks open and close.

There are life preservers fastened to posts, sure to set small minds to thoughts of heroic rescues and drownings at sea.

Then there are the barges, all different, and the tug boats with their exotic names, piloted by real river skippers.

At night yellow lights, like an aircraft landing field, line the locks and glitter on the blackish water. A mother starts when a small child takes a notion to climb the wire fence for a bird's-eye view.

Walls 92-Foot High The height alone, with the sound of water lapping on concrete far below, is intriguing to most youngsters. The walls are 92 feet high, mounted on bed rock.

Adults would see and record most of these things, but would be more interested in knowing that during the first six months of the year, 17,601 vessels passed through the locks.

A total of 3800 lockages were recorded during this period, meaning that each day about 21 craft comprised of 98 separate vessels passed through the locks—or about one every hour.

The vessels carried 10,995,716 tons of freight of all types through the locks so far this year.

Vessels using them include towboats, barges, private recreational boats, U. S. cruisers and patrol boats, construction boats, small craft and U. S. contractor's boats and barges.

The Boats Must Go Through The locks—one is an auxiliary lock to be used should the main one be closed for repairs or when river traffic is high—have been open around-the-clock the past eight years open every day, winter and summer," Elliott said.

Boats passing through the locks are pushed or lowered by water, as though in an elevator. The main lock is 1200 feet long and 210 feet wide, matched in length only by a lock at Keokuk, Ia. The auxiliary lock is 600 feet long.

"Everything is on a massive scale at the locks. Miter gates at the downstream end are 70 feet high and weigh 206 tons each. But when powerful electric motors open or close them, almost no sound reaches the wall except for a slight creaking and rushing of water."

300,000 Tons Of Concrete Concrete in the locks, if it could ever be weighed, would tip the scales at 300,000 tons. Also used were 1600 tons of reinforcing steel and 1000 tons of structural steel.

Total length of the canal, which bypasses the hazardous Chain of Rocks reach of the Mississippi River is 8.4 miles, reaching upstream almost to the mouth of the Missouri River. The locks are at the downstream end.

The total excavation was 23,000,000 cubic yards of earth, which was used for levees in the area. The canal is 550 feet across at the top and 300 feet across at the bottom, with a 12 foot minimum depth at low water.

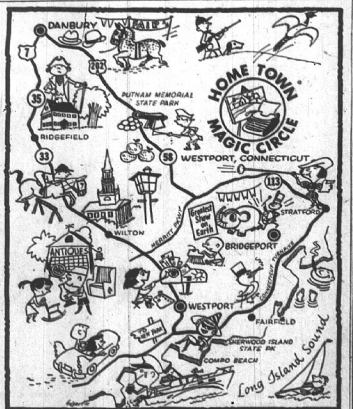

Lockmaster Elliott, who has held his present job since the locks opened, previously worked on locks at Alton and has been employed by the government for the past 29 years.

Assisting him at Locks No. 27 are an assistant lockmaster, William Trojahn; nine regular lockmen, Norvel Thomire, Warren Neulinger, Henry Nobus, George Mitchell, Adrian Emberton, Otis Forsee, Jay Lindbeck, Jesse Taylor and Dean Adams; two electricians and a preventative maintenance crew.

At least two lockmen are on duty at all times.

Woman Found Hiding In Dog House Friday A St. Louis woman spent the night in the county jail at Edwardsville Friday after deputies found her hiding in a dog house owned by Sam Drenovac, operator of the Twin Oaks Motel on Route 56 near the Chain of Rocks canal bridge.

Drenovac called police when the woman fled after knocking on his door about 4 a.m. Deputies searched the premises and found her inside the large dog house. She was arrested when it was found that she was drunk but released later when charges were not preferred.

By Edward Collier Be my guest on a magic Circle auto trip that starts in my home town—Westport, Connecticut—both landed and labeled by novels, plays, movies, magazines. Here is the Famous Artists School; the Country Playhouse, one of the oldest summer theaters; and historic Compo Beach, where 3,000 British raiders landed in 1777. The route leads to Sherwood Island State Park, a water playground; Fairfield, with its Southport "millionaire's row" waterfront estates and its Birdcraft Sanctuary; Industrial Bridgeport, where 255,000 watch the glittering circus-like annual Bar-nam Festival parade. Internationally famous is the Shakespeare Festival Theatre, on the lovely Housatonic River in Stratford. Costumed singers serenade the players who come early to eat on the lawn. The return is via Merritt Park, an American scenic wonder; Putnam State Park, the Valley Forge of Connecticut, where American troops lasted out a bitter winter during the Revolution; Danbury, wool hat center and home of the Danbury Fair since 1897; Bridgefield and its fine colonial homes; and antique shops.

Barnes Holds His First Alton Industrial Hearing Attorney Marvin C. Barnes, recently appointed as an arbitrator of the Illinois Industrial Commission by Gov. Otto Kerner, presided for the first time Thursday in Alton to conduct hearings on industrial compensation petitions. As an arbitrator, Barnes will conduct monthly hearings in the Alton city hall, usually on two concurrent days.

SUGGESTION AWARDS OF $125 each being presented to two A. O. Smith Corp. employees during a recent ceremony on the lawn of the auto frame manufacturing plant on U. S. Highway 475.

check to Vernon Duhlar, 1543 St. Clair avenue; while on the far right, Willard P. Goff, also of Edwardsville and a supervisor, gives a similar check to John Thornton of Gillespie.

Duhlar and Thornton received the awards for a joint suggestion which resulted in an increase in the efficiency of an assembly operation involving the lateral portions of automobile frames.

Plant Personnel Manager Anthony P. Trebe said, "Through their joint idea, these men have contributed substantially to the job security of themselves and their fellow workers by improving the competitive position of the company within the automotive industry."

SEWER REPAIR OPERATIONS in progress on 15-inch line in 3600 block of Terrace lane. A. H. Seebold Co. workers, on the job since June 19, expect to complete it within two weeks. The line broke 16 feet beneath the surface and the 12-foot hole, with walls supported by short pilings, is used as the working area. Cause of the break was attributed to seepage.
